CONSTRUCTION OF DAM URGED BY C. O' L. ASSOCIATION

Committee Will Insist That Engineers Plans Are Adhered To.

The Chain O'Lakes Association of Lake County swung into action in their first regular monthly meeting last Sunday.

The officers are: President, C. K. Anderson of Lake Catherine; Vice President, George Maypole of Fox Lake; Secretary, H. C. Alt, Antioch; Treasurer, E. H. White, Pliskane.

The directors consist of one representative from each of the smaller lakes and two each from each of the larger.

The purpose of the association is to plan and work in unity for the good of the people living along the lakes.

The first and probably the most important matter of business was to appoint C. K. Anderson, George Maypole, and Ray Progenzer as a committee to get in touch with the Waterways division and with Governor Small, to urge the construction of the dam as located by the state engineers, since the location is an engineering problem. It is certain that a dam is necessary in order to maintain lake levels and produce even flow into the lower river, even though the McHenry dam be put in good repair.

The Chain O'Lakes Association will be back of the new Conservancy District which will be organized July 19.

The motor boat cut-out nuisance is becoming quite a problem and it may be necessary to go before the legislature to get relief. Most of the residents come to the lakes to rest and recuperate, but the constant roar of the cut-outs from high powered motors at all hours of the day and night is quite irritating. C. J. Joyce and W. O. Winch were appointed as a committee to see what could be done to abate this nuisance on Channel Lake.

The dues of the organization are to be $5.00 annually, and each member is to be given a metal sign to place at entrance of property to designate membership.

President Anderson and Secretary Alt were empowered to make arrangements to open a permanent office in conjunction with the Antioch Business club.

The Antioch News was made the official organ of the Association and Editor Gaston was praised for being "awake to the needs of the community" (Speaking for Mr. Gaston in his absence, the temporary editor pledges the support of the Antioch News to all progressive undertakings that will benefit this region.)

Antioch Palace Card Pleases 500 Fans In Seven Red Hot Bouts

A. Jokinen Has Too Much
Training; Puts Geo. To Mat In Third.

Results

Joe Delaney beat Frankie Hughes in 4 rounds.

Jimmy Hull beat Joe Malone in 4 rounds.

Phil Taylor beat Heywood Storry in 4 rounds.

Arne Jokinen knocked out George Holderman in 3rd round.

Alex. Kozlo beat Webster Freeman in 3 rounds.

Mort Maxedon knocked out Neal Donovan in 3rd round.

George Taylor beat Nick Johnson in 4 rounds.

More than 500 fans gathered to help Dick Macek celebrate his second fight production, and the last three bouts were so close that it was necessary to give each an extra round before the judges, Mac Mullen and Edward Cliff could agree on the decisions.

Frankie Hughes had a previous victory over Joe Delaney but lost to Joe in the third and fourth rounds Friday. This was a grand windup for the evening's entertainment.

Jimmy Hull of Lake Villa almost found his match in Joe Malone, and had to take a lot of punishment while he was winning the decision in the fourth. They are to meet again this week.

The colored boys, Phil Taylor and Heywood Storry furnished lots of fun and some rather good boxing. Phil was consistent in bringing his

CICERO REVELERS GET FREE NIGHT'S LODGING IN ANTIOCH JAIL

Toss Fire Crackers Under
Saddle Horse—Lawson
Thrown and Injured.

It happens at times that some of the boys from the city get that wanderlust feeling and try to satiate it by driving out to some of the surrounding towns to pull off their stunts. Four of these young bucks from Cicero selected Antioch as the victim last Saturday night, but after their first round with Officer Valenta followed by the over night cooling process in the village bastille, and later followed by a private intensive session under the supervision of Judge Tarbell, they decided they had taken the wrong road out of Cicero and will probably not make such a foolish mistake again.

The personnel of the merry-makers was C. B. Brayes, Laddie Hartel, Tony McKicks and John Kunz, all of Cicero. They were out in search of excitement, and in true small town form picked up a good supply bootleg, preholiday fire crackers. In their tour of the town they encountered Wm. Lawson exercising one of Geo. Vogel's saddle horses from the Smart farm. This made a grand fire cracker target that was irresistible. The rider was unable to control the horse that reared and lunged and finally fell over lacerating itself in several places. Lawson was thrown to the ground and sustained a sprained knee together with several bruises.

As is his custom Officer Valenta appeared on the scene at just the right time and promptly escorted the offenders to the Village retention house. They were taken before Judge Tarbell the next morning where they paid $15.00 damages for the horse, $10.00 to Lawson and the usual court costs. After a more or less vitriolic reprimand from the Judge they were sent back to Cicero to meditate.

SIX SPEEDERS GET FINES

Frank Valenta reports that six speeders were assessed fines of from $3 to $5 over the week end by Justice Tarbell.

right down on Storry's expanded nose.

Jokinen, just home from the University of Ill. boxing school was too clever for our George. George lead the attack throughout but was unable to keep his chin covered and went down for the count in the third.

In comparison with the finals, the other preliminaries were not as interesting, but if Macek can produce a few bouts like the last three on his card, he will need to order some more chairs to take care of the crowd.

This week will see the same boys in two of the bouts when Hull meets Malone and Phil Taylor again encounters Storry. Jokinen will meet Jonny Lee, A. A. U. Champ of 1927. The way Joky looked last week, he should give Lee a good run for his title. Arne will be backed by a number of Waukegan High School supporters.

Holderman will exchange blows with Joe Harrison of Arcade Gym. The remainder of the program will be:

Stanley Krosky, Salem, Wis., vs. Walter Buskey, Rondout, Ill. George Taylor, Waukegan vs. Larry Amedee, Duane Brantigan, Long Lake vs. Nick Johnson, Waukegan.

Allendale Man Talks Sheep Improvement Over Radio Saturday

Mr. Dunham, farm manager at the Allendale Farm, spoke over K F K X last Saturday noon. He dealt with the improvement of sheep herds, especially of the Oxford, in which breed he specializes. Mr. Dunham is an authority in sheep raising, and has been honored by the Presidency of the Oxford Breeders Association. He exhibits his herd in all of the high class fairs and has many trophies to his credit. He will exhibit in July at the Fairs in Grand Forks and Fargo, North Dakota.

WATSON SIGNS WITH FRANKLIN PARK HIGH SCHOOL AS COACH

Popular Teacher Elected to Head Athletic Dept., at Increase in Salary.

L. R. Watson, the genial teacher and highly successful coach of the Antioch Township High School has definitely severed his connection with the local school by signing a contract to accept a similar position in Leyden Community High School at Franklin Park, Illinois.

It is understood that his contract contains a nice increase in salary over that which the Antioch Board was able to offer him. Altho Leyden is no larger than our school, Watson believes that he will be in a faster growing community that will produce a much larger high school in a few years. They have a new building only two years old and at present have plans completed whereby the building will be more than doubled, within the next two years.

Watson felt that due to his phenomenal success at Antioch in the last six years, there was little that he could add to his record here, while a few defeats this year might ruin his reputation. At his new location the past record in athletics offers him a chance to go forth and develop a new record. He has nothing to lose and everything to gain.

There are few coaches who can point to as enviable a record as can Watson in the last six years. Since the organization of the Northwest Conference, three years ago, Antioch has secured about two thirds of all trophies awarded. It was this reputation that caused the school to the south to bid for Watson's services, and since they have the money and are willing to spend it for teachers, they can pick off the good teachers from the other schools. It is rumored that Leyden may out bid us for two other popular teachers on our staff.

HAROLD KENNEDY WINS 1ST. HONORS IN GRAIN JUDGING

Presented With Gold Medal
And Ribbons—H. S.
Receives Cup.

Harold Kennedy, a Sophomore of the Agricultural Department of The Antioch Township High School, was high individual in the State Grain Judging contest held for Vocational Agriculture students at the University of Illinois last week. He competed against 200 boys from approximately 100 schools of the state. This is probably the greatest accomplishment since its organization in 1920.

A large silver cup was presented to him by the Agriculture Club of the University of Illinois. This is to be kept at the Antioch High School for one year. The State Association of Vocational Agriculture Teachers presented him with a gold medal. Harold also received several nice ribbons—a large blue ribbon for being the best judge of all grains in the state; a blue ribbon for being the best corn judge and a red ribbon for being the second best Soybean judge in Illinois.

Together with Jasper McCormick, a Freshman of Antioch High School, they composed the Antioch team that placed 8th out of the 100 schools.

The poultry, dairy and fat stock teams of Antioch did not place in the first ten schools but stood better than the average school. Roy McNeil was 15th as judge of all Fat Stock in a competition of 372 boys. The first 10 only can win.

Harold is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Kennedy east of town. He is not only a good grain judge but is one of the best students in the High School, having received grades sufficiently high to be excused from all examinations. Harold has two more years in school and should be able to retain the cup for his school during those years.

The Antioch News congratulates him together with Mr. Kuff and the other members of the teams.

H. C. Dixon to Be Ordained Priest at Sunday Service

Reverend H. C. Dixon, Pastor of the local Episcopal church, will be raised to the Priesthood at St. Luke's Episcopal church in Evanston next Sunday morning at 10 o'clock standard time. The Rt. Rev. Sheldon M. Griswold, D. D., will have charge of the ordination services.

Dr. Dixon came to Antioch in May 1926, as Lay Reader, and was ordained Deacon in May, 1927. He has won the respect and confidence of the entire community as well as of his congregation, and it is understood that there will be a great number of his friends accompany him to the ordination services.

Board of Review Starts Work on Tax Adjustment

The board of review is in its summer session which is anticipated to hold more work than any of the previous terms.

Those on the board are Supervisors Thomas V. Murphy, chairman of the county board; Supervisor Bert C. Thompson, of Zion; and Mrs. Nellie R. Crooks of Waukegan.

The chief clerk is Mrs. Eva Mullen, of Waukegan.

It is the duty of the board to go over the books of the assessors from the townships of the county and certify these to the county clerk who extends the tax finding the amount each piece of property is to pay.

From there the bills are sent to the treasurer for the purpose of collection.

The board sits as a judge over disputes in which property owners believe they are paying in excess of benefits.

Attorney Charles E. Jack, town clerk of Waukegan township, who has been retained by the board of supervisors for the purpose of collecting back taxes and hidden taxes, will file a number of suits before this board about July 1. Any appeal from the board would have to go direct to the supreme court.

Mr. Jack has stated that the county has large sums of money coming from property on which taxes have not been paid. He is not certain as to a definite amount due.

LUMBERMEN MEET IN SEMI-ANNUAL GOLF TOURNAMENT

Tinder of Evanston Takes Loving Cup With 71;
McDonald Guest.

The fifth semi-annual Spring Golf Tournament for the Lumber, Coal and Building Material Dealers of Northern Illinois was held at the Chain O'Lakes Country Club last Thursday, June 14. The meet was attended by 175 dealers, both retail and wholesale.

The day and the greens were ideal and many good scores were turned in. W. O. Tinder, of Evanston, won the large silver loving cup for low gross, turning in a score of 71. C. H. Ellis with 75, was second and received a nice match holder with six silver trays. Don L. Heffes was third with 75. In the Blind Bogey there were six ties, each receiving a half dozen golf balls. They were: P. H. Kube, I. O. Gella, Dr. Moore, C. F. Davis, G. C. Estes, and Art Brailsford.

As an added attraction to the meet, the committee secured Hob McDonald who put on an exhibition round.

Ray Progenzer served one of his famous chicken dinners for the bunch and the 120 chickens soon disappeared.

The members of the committee on arrangements were Hush Hussey and Herb Vos and they certainly did a good job of it.

Instructress Nielson Of Eastern Star Dies At Chicago

The death of Mrs. Maude L. Nielson was quite a shock to many of the Star members of our home chapter and other chapters in this Chicago northern territory. After being taken to the hospital she failed to recover from an appendicitis operation and passed away Tuesday afternoon at five o'clock.

Mrs. Nielson resided at 5615 North Karlov avenue, Chicago, but had always made Antioch her home in the summer, on Selter's subdivision on Grass Lake.

WEEK-END BRINGS USUAL QUOTA OF MOTOR ACCIDENTS

"Ben" Taken to Hospital—
Chicago Man Gets Fish
Hook in Eye.

"Ben" Home Today

Ben Stetterlind is in the Lake County hospital as the result of being run down by a car about a mile south of town on route 21 at 9:00 o'clock Saturday night. He was brought to Dr. Warriner's office by a North Shore Bus where it was found that he had a split nose, lacerations above the eye and a scalp wound four or five inches in length.

After first aid by Dr. Warriner, Ben was sent to the County Hospital for attention and recuperation. Eugene Sheehan took Ben to the hospital in his car as he was the one who was driving the car when the accidents occurred. However those who were at the accident release Gene from blame.

Gets Fish Hook in Eye

One of the most vivid exhibitions of nerve and fortitude was displayed by a Mr. Miller of Chicago last Sunday morning when he had the misfortune to get a fish hook imbedded in one of his eyes. It was necessary for Dr. Warriner to saw off the ends of the hook before he could get to cut the tissue and remove the hook. It entered the white of the eye and came out through the pupil, distorting the pupil to an irregular oblong shape. During the entire operation Mr. Miller sat stoically, giving no expression of pain, even though no anesthetic was used; in fact he stood it better than some who were assisting Dr. Warriner. The son fainted and at least one attendant nearly fainted and had to get out for fresh air.

Mr. Miller and son were guests at the Merry Glenn Hotel and were enjoying some early morning fishing in Lake Marie when the accident occurred. They went immediately to the hotel and Clifford Hook, night clerk, brought them to Dr. Warriner. As soon as the hook was removed they left for Chicago to consult an oculist as it was feared that the eyesight would be lost.

Matches Start Fire

Matches and automobiles when mixed may cause trouble as was found out by the youngster of Charles Atwell at Channel Lake last Thursday. The boy accidentally set fire to the upholstery of an old car. The alarm was sent in but before the fire department arrived, a neighbor put out the flames with a portable fire extinguisher.

This could have developed into serious fire as there was a fifty gallon tank of gasoline and a fifty gallon tank of kerosene within a few feet of the garage. The house was only 12 feet on the other side of the garage, so that this small fire extinguisher may have prevented considerable damage.

The fire Monday evening occurred at a cottage on the Zobac Club subdivision. It was caused by a short in a ceiling socket. The wires were cut thus removing the cause and a bucket of water soon extinguished the flame. There was no damage except a small hole in the ceiling.

Try this fish recipe for Friday's lunch—it really is good.

Fish Newburg Recipe

Fish Newburg is one of the tastiest of hot dishes. To make it use a can of tuna fish, crab meat and shrimp, or lobster, crab meat and salmon, or any combination of fish that you prefer. Open the cans, drain and flake the fish in not too small pieces. Make a white sauce a little richer than usual, and turn in the fish simmer till hot, then fold in a well beaten egg yolk a dash of mace, and if you have it, two tablespoonsful of sherry flavor. Do not cook after the flavor has been added. Serve hot on toast or in patty shells. Lemon juice may be substituted for sherry flavor, adding just a tablespoonful of it after removing the fish from the fire.

When summer's hot days come and you want a cool dessert, try one of the recipes which follow. They will be found very satisfactory, not only for warm weather, but for any weather, and they are especially good for a party luncheon.

Orange Pekoe Sherbet

1 tablespoon orange Pekoe tea
1 cup boiling water
Grated rind of half an orange
2 tablespoons granulated gelatine
1/4 cup cold water
1 1/2 cup sugar
2 cups milk
1 cup whipping cream
Pour the boiling water over the tea and grated orange rind in a hot earthenware vessel. Let stand till cold and then strain. Put the gelatin in the cold water. Set in hot water and stir till all particles of the gelatin are dissolved. Add this to the tea. Into this mixture stir the sugar and then the milk. Partially freeze, using eight parts ice to one of salt. When frozen to the slushy stage, add the cream whipped. Continue freezing and let stand tightly packed in ice and salt for two hours or longer before using.

Pineapple Sherbet

3/4 cup juice from canned pineapple
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 1/2 cup sugar
2 teaspoons gelatine
1/4 cup cold water
2 cups milk
1 cup whipping cream
Add the sugar to the pineapple and lemon juice and let stand for several hours or until a thick syrup is formed. Melt the gelatin in cold water and let in hot water stirring till all gelatin is dissolved. Add to the syrup and stir well. Do not have the syrup too cold or the gelatin may become curdled. When it is being added, add the milk very slowly, stirring the mixture continually. Partially freeze and then add the cream whipped. A cupful of banana pulp may be added if desired.

Pineapple Salad Mousse

Sift one teaspoon gelatin in one tablespoon water, and dissolve over boiling water. Thoroughly drain one cup crushed pineapple and add one-half cup diced oranges, one cup very thick mayonnaise, two cups cream, whipped, and the dissolved gelatin. When well mixed, pour into a mold cover tightly and pack in equal parts of ice and salt for four hours. Serve on lettuce with additional mayonnaise if desired. This mousse can also be served as a dessert.

"The Cookie That Went to Market"

2 eggs well beaten
2 cups white sugar
1 cup lard (soft)
1 cup sweet milk (scant)
1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
Mix and let stand over night if possible as they will not need as much flour if you do.

Mix with pastry flour as soft as you can easily handle on the board. If too stiff add cream. Bake in hot oven with two raisins on top, also a sprinkling of white sugar.

A Household Hint
Save The Old Umbrella

The old umbrella has many uses. Do not throw it away until some of them have been tried. One of them is its practical use as a clothes basket. In the absence of a clothes basket, one helpful husband found that the umbrella with the curved handle saves stooping and walking. It hangs on the clothes line full of clothes, and can be pushed along on the line as the hanging progresses, doing away with walking back and forth to the clothes basket.

Choice plants and vegetables may be protected from the hot sun during the torrid days of summer by old umbrella from which the bulky handle has been removed so that they can be easily slipped into the ground. Even the umbrella which will not protect against rain will nurse and

PAJAMAS OF GORGEOUS PRINTS
ARE IN A SLEEVELESS MOOD

ENTHUSIASM for gay color knows no bounds these days. Even our homes are done in bright lacquer shades. Colorful kitchens, including the utensils therein, colorful bathrooms, colorful living rooms, says the modernistic interior decorator.

What has all this to do with women's fashions? Just this, the spirit of color has so taken possession of us that we dress up to her environment, becoming, as it were, a part of the picture. Every one will agree that the young woman photographed here, posing in so gorgeously gay a pajama ensemble, would be an ornament to any home, fitting into the color scheme most decoratively. Note we say "ensemble," because no doubt if she were to peep into the boudoir of this young modern, one would discover there a matching coolie coat, for most pajamas nowadays are styled in three-piece sets. Especially does the sleeveless pajama blouse depend upon a picturesque coat to lend to it a more formal aspect, should occasion demand.

The entrancing lounging pajama costume in the picture indeed tells a colorful story, for it is vivid both as to line and design.

For those dreamy afternoons when summer hums a happy tune and "it's all well with the world," what so apropos for a lounging robe as this one in the illustration, whose joyous silk print seems to have gathered nature's most beautiful tones and tints of fruit and flower into its patterning?

It's stylish to be sleeveless this season. Simple daytime frocks, sports clothes, pajama ensemble, all emphasize the mode of sleevelessness. Of course if mildness is entertaining a chic and modern guest, she will don the ever-ready graceful flowing-sleeved coat before mentioned, but for solid home comfort on torrid days she will find her sleeveless pajama blouse much to her liking.

The fact that this ensemble is of printed design speaks the importance of prints in the mode. The world of fashion is reveling in prints—prints for every occasion. Not only is the printed ensemble a factor in the home, but coats, hats, scarfs and even the pocketbooks we carry are now made of flamboyant prints—parades, too, if you please.

ADVERTISING

The editor of the local paper was unable to secure advertising from one of the business men of the town, who asserted stoutly that he himself never read ads and didn't believe anyone else did.

"Will you advertise if I can convince you that folks read the ads?" the editor asked. "If you can show me!" was the sarcastic answer. "But you can't."

In the next issue of the paper, the editor ran a line of small type in an obscure corner. It read: "What is Jones going to do about it?"

The business man, Jones, hastened to seek out the editor next day. He admitted that he was being pestered out of his wits by the curious. He agreed to stand by the editor's explanation in the forthcoming issue, and this was:

"Jones is going to advertise, of course."

Having once advertised, Jones advertises still.

MONKEYS REBEL, SHIP CREW HAS LIVELY VOYAGE

Captain Experiences Real "Monkey and Parrot" Time in Rough Trip.

New York.—After having been the master for eight harassing days of an impromptu but thoroughly untractable Noah's ark, Capt. Curt Zastrow of the Panama mail line steamship Ecuador docked his ship safely recently in Brooklyn.

Captain Zastrow's trouble really began with the taking on at a Central American port of a cargo of 62 monkeys, 657 parakeets, 252 parrots, 98 finches, 28 hummingbirds, 14 ducks, and 22 sloths, all consigned to Louis Itube, importer of tropical animals here.

And it was with a distinct sigh of relief that Captain Zastrow saw his cargo delivered to Mr. Itube, for in the last eight days of his voyage he had developed a positive aversion to all tropical animals—monkeys particularly.

What He Thinks of Monkeys.

Monkeys, Captain Zastrow thinks, undoubtedly have their place, but just at the moment he would hesitate to designate it publicly. He has, however, very distinct ideas on the subject.

It was shortly after he took on his miscellaneous cargo that the first monkey business started. Most of the Ecuador's 160 passengers were on deck, calmly toting away the hours as the ship plowed northward through tropic seas, when a great chattering began at hatchway No. 1, and two score monkeys swarmed on deck, followed closely by as many parrots.

Monkeys and parrots apparently were all over the place, and an investigation showed that several of the cages containing 15 monkeys each had been opened in some way and that the monkeys released the parrots. Captain Zastrow thinks the whole scurry trick was played by one monkey, perhaps, who wriggled from his cage and released his fellows. He doesn't know which monkey it was; he wishes he did know.

Swarmed Superstructure.

The parrots were caught quickly, but the monkeys were another matter. They swarmed up radio masts, over ventilators, boat decks, steamer chairs, nervous tourists and ship's officers. They were, in short, everywhere.

The agile kitchen help and waiters, Chinese and Filipinos, were pressed into service and the chase began, but it was not until eight days later and the ship was only a day out of New York that the last monkey was put back safely in his cage.

Captain Zastrow doesn't like to think of the intervening days, for both he and Chief Officer William R. Calcutt, are sure that the voyage was "one of their roughest trips." And they are not referring to the weather.

"Dead" Man Complains of Morgue-Like Home

Chicago.—Dead men ordinarily tell no tales. With Arthur McCaffray it is different. He was pronounced dead by his own father in his Chicago home. A crepe was hung on his door. An inquest was held. A jury returned a verdict that he had come to his death at the hands of an unknown person. His grave was dug, and his friends ordered flowers.

Then Mrs. McCaffray, the widow, appeared at the undertaking establishment in her weeds. She discovered the corpse was not Arthur. She returned home to find her husband there. He explained he had been taking care of a sick friend while away from home.

"This place," he told her, "is like a morgue. You and the five children are in mourning. How come?"

Scotch Flemings

In Newhaven, a little fishing community on the shore of the Firth of Forth, Scotland, there is a colony of fisherfolk who are the descendants of Flemish settlers of the fifteenth century. The settlers, refugees from the Thirty Years' war waged by Charles V in Flanders, carried with them their native customs and manner of dress, which are still in evidence despite the long sojourn among the Scotch.

STRAIGHT TALKS WITH AUNT EMMY

ON BUILDING AN INCOME

As Aunt Emmy came out of the savings bank she met young George Oliver.

"Well, well," he said, "it's funny to see you coming out of a savings bank. Aunt Emmy I thought only poor folks like me had money in savings banks—people like you just clip coupons!"

"Have you a savings bank account?" countered Aunt Emmy.

"Well, er—I suppose I haven't," he admitted. "You see, it's hard to save money when you're first married. Somehow there never seems to be enough money to go 'round—let alone to put in a savings bank."

"You never will have if you don't get started," interrupted Aunt Emmy. "You should make your weekly savings deposit, no matter how small, the first claim on your salary after paying your bills. I make my weekly deposit in this bank faithfully—I put away a certain sum regularly."

"You can!" Nat commented.

"It is more a habit than you would suppose," Aunt Emmy continued. "Any one can do it who is willing to let other things wait. I began putting a little money in a savings bank years ago when it was no joke to save a few pennies. I remember what a wonderful thrill I got the first time I saw my interest entered in my bank book. There was money that my money had earned all by itself. After that it was a sort of game with me to put a certain sum in the bank, even if I had to do without things I would have enjoyed having. Now I realize what it means to keep your money busy earning all the time so I continue to put a little in the savings bank regularly and, after it accumulates, I draw some out and invest in safe securities that pay a higher rate of interest than savings. All the time, you see, the money is working for me."

"Of course, when the sum is small, it earns little, but if you start young, as you and Molly are, it is almost like magic the way it mounts up after a few years—then when your savings get grown up into a real investment they earn a real income."

"I never thought of it in that light," said George.

"Try it—and see for yourself how it works," urged Aunt Emmy. "Have you ever thought how nice it would be to have a few dollars ready for use in case of an emergency? Accidents and illnesses do happen. Or suppose you had an opportunity to buy something you knew you could sell at a profit and you had to let the opportunity slip for the lack of a few hundred dollars. You and Molly would never miss five dollars a week—and if you keep at it, it will work wonders!"

"You're right, it would!" exclaimed George.

"I'll talk to Molly tonight, Aunt Emmy, and see if we can't revise our expenditures."

"There would be a whole lot less family trouble and worry over money matters if every young couple did the same thing early in life," Aunt Emmy said. "Start young, is the magic slogan."

GRIM REAPER HAS LAUGH ON POISON PLOT

Mocks Command of Aged Couple Who Had Set Out to Die.

Los Angeles, Calif.—They are an aged couple, the husband somewhat older than the wife, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Beach by name.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach were wed a long time ago in the East, making their home for the better part of their lives at Detroit, Mich., where Mr. Beach was well and favorably known as a writer of feature news and stories.

Three months ago the aged couple came to Los Angeles to spend their declining days amidst flowers and sunshine, enjoying all of the delights of southern California.

Then because things did not progress with the aged husband as he thought they should be begun to be gripped with the haunting fear that he had outlived his usefulness.

End of the Trail.

Mr. Beach and his wife are refined and educated people. They have always looked at life in a philosophical way. The aged wife shared in the fear of her husband that the end of their trail was at hand.

Death had no terrors for this pair. They talked the thing over and reasoned that if their usefulness had passed its zenith, the grave would be better than that they should become a burden to each other or to relatives. So they decided to die—to die together and meet, they hoped, in a happier beyond.

They wanted their exit to be serene and peaceful; that they should fall into a deep sleep and never awaken on this earth.

The husband visited the corner drug store, where he purchased 20 tablets of a sedative. He returned to his apartment where his wife calmly waited.

They were happy. They joked with each other. There was no terror in either.

Life Still Dear.

Yet life was dear to this aged couple. They wanted just one more happy time together. They left their room and bought tickets for a motion picture comedy. They laughed, they joked and returned to their home.

Sitting at the table across from each other they divided the 20 tablets—10 to each.

The husband swallowed the first; then the wife took one. Then the husband's turn and so on until the last tablet had been consumed, enough poison to stifle the life out of any human.

This was the pitiful story told by the husband before Judge Thomas C. Gould, presiding over the lunacy commission in the psychopathic ward at the General hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Beach had been found and hurried to the hospital, where they had been given medical aid in time to cheat death.

When the couple met for the first time, after being taken to the hospital they rushed into each other's arms and wept.

"I have been a chump," the former writer declared. "Life still holds something for us."

Damrosch To Teach Music Appreciation Over The Radio

Arrangements have been completed for a special series of 24 educational orchestral concerts to be broadcast next season, beginning in the fall. The new Music Education Hour sponsored by the Radio Corporation of America will be under the direction of Walter Damrosch, the dean of American musicians, who made the hour of the past season one of the great accomplishments of radio broadcasting.

In the response to the nationwide demand for an educational hour of music for young people and children, next season's program will be given Friday mornings at 11 o'clock Eastern standard time, so that it can be heard in the schools. It is planned to use 28 stations of the National Broadcasting company and associated stations, covering the entire country between the Atlantic Coast and the Rocky Mountains.

In making the announcement, David Barnoff, Vice President and General Manager of the Radio Corporation of America, said:

"Since the first days of broadcasting we have confidently looked forward to the time when radio broadcasting and reception would be so perfected that it might be used for universal education as well as entertainment. Millions of dollars have been spent in the development of broadcasting, with the belief that this new means of universal communication would become of great public service, supplementing and augmenting other means of education."

"When Mr. Damrosch came to us some time ago with a plan for incalculating a better appreciation and understanding of good music, we were immediately impressed by its great possibilities. And the many thousands of letters recently received from teachers, parents and educational authorities, from all over the country, following our three experimental lecture-concerts, have confirmed our judgment."

"The time for music education over the air is opportune, because of the perfected state of radio broadcasting. The best music can now be entrusted to the microphone with the full assurance that it will issue forth from the loudspeaker in the school or the home with a true approximation of the original rendition."

Beware of The Bug In The Sparkling Water

Sickness, ill health, and death often lurk in the colorless water which comes in a sparkling stream from a wayside well or spring to quench the thirst of the dusty traveler, warns the Research Department of the National Association of Farm Equipment Manufacturers. Water from a strange well should never be used unless it is boiled, especially if the well platform is open and cracked, allowing surface water to run in. Many states now analyze the water from wells along highways annually, erecting "safe drinking water" signs near those which contain water safe for the traveler. If necessary to use water from unmarked wells, be sure that a modern pump with a tight head which keeps out contaminating dirt and dust, and a properly constructed concrete platform and curb protect the water inside. It is also important from a health standpoint that the traveler patronize only those roadside stands and markets which are clean and sanitary.

Horsepower

James Watt and Matthew Boulton, in the Eighteenth century, began to manufacture hoisting engines to supply the horses then used in the coal mines of England. They tested the pulling power of a heavy draft horse and found that a horse could lift 330 pounds of coal 100 feet in 1 minute, which is equivalent to lifting 33,000 pounds 1 foot in 1 minute, the accepted test of horsepower today.

Wall Paper in America

Wall paper was imported by the early settlers of the Colonies. The first factory for making wall paper was established in this country in 1790 by John B. Howell at Albany, N. Y., but the second one did not appear until 1810. During this period the wealthy people were in the habit of importing their wall paper from England and France.

HUSBAND TELLS HOW HE KILLED WIFE WITH POISON

South Dakota Man Gets Life Term for Cold-Blooded Murder of Spouse.

Sioux Falls, S. D.—"It all happened within an hour or less, and we were all very excited at the house about it."

In these calm words Glenn Melver, former service man, who was gassed in France, told in part about the death of his wife after he had administered a quantity of strychnine to her, giving it to her in a cup of coffee. He made a detailed confession of the crime and when taken into Circuit court entered a plea of guilty and was sentenced to life imprisonment in the state penitentiary in Sioux Falls.

Guys Poison.

Mrs. Esther Melver was a book agent representing a Minneapolis house and was followed to South Dakota by her husband, whose home is said to be at Marshall, Minn. Mrs. Melver wanted her husband to go over into Minnesota to get their car, but he refused on the ground that he had made plans to make a trip to Watertown, S. D. This was their last quarrel, for soon thereafter Melver went to a drug store and purchased strychnine, signing the name "R. C. Meyers" to the poison register. In his confession he, among other things, said: "My wife and I had never been able to get along very well; we argued, disagreed, and fought a good deal, and now that it is all over I wish I might be relieved of future suffering, also, like my wife."

Helps Wife to Chair.

Melver stated that when his wife collapsed after the poison took effect he assisted in getting her to a chair, on which she sat down. Then she started to have convulsions and between seizures charged that her husband had poisoned her.

Melver in his confession set forth that when she made this charge he told those on the scene that his wife was only having "one of her nervous spells." Melver said he "didn't think she had swallowed enough poison in the coffee to kill her, but shortly thereafter we put her on the bed and she died."

Clean, Smooth Streets

OF LASTING BEAUTY

WHAT impression does your town make on visitors—on you?

Consider your streets. Are they crumbling under motor traffic which must pick its way around ruts and holes? Or are they smoothly paved—clean and attractive—a good investment?

Portland cement concrete is the ideal pavement for this motor age—in towns and cities of all sizes. It is economical to build and maintain, permanently beautiful and—the safest pavement wet or dry.

Breaks Window So He Can Sleep in Cell

Chicago.—Elliott Kane, thirty-nine years old, can no longer work at his old trade of boot making. He was handicapped several years ago when he lost a leg in a railroad accident. Nor can he find honest work to do. The other morning he was cold and hungry when he used his wooden leg to kick in a window of the Harrison orange hut at 27 West Madison street. A policeman came. "Take me to jail," said Kane. "I broke that window so you'd have to arrest me and give me some place to sleep."

JIBES DRIVE BOY TO TRY SUICIDE

Ill Health Prevented Participation in Games.

Detroit.—Goaded to distraction by the taunts of his schoolmates, who jeered at him because he could not participate in their rougher games because of ill health, George Shultz, an eleven-year-old Detroit boy, tried to end his life recently by hanging himself from a beam in the basement of his home.

His body was discovered a few minutes later by his mother, who cut him down. He was rushed to a hospital by his father.

Although his condition was considered serious, hospital attendants said that the boy would recover.

The motive for his attempt at self-destruction was revealed when the parents questioned their son at the hospital.

"I asked him what had made him do this terrible thing," the mother explained.

"He said some boy at the school which he attended had called him 'sissy' and threatened to hit him," Mrs. Shultz said. "He told me the boys made fun of him and that he felt so bad about their treatment that he didn't want to live any longer."

"George has been sick most of his life and was just recuperating from an attack of scarlet fever when this thing happened. He was always weak and could not run and play with the other boys, and he was many grades behind most boys of his age because of his illness."

The boy had cried when he came home from school in the afternoon, she said, but refused to explain the reason. Next day he seemed quite cheerful, but stayed near home.

"The following morning I was preparing breakfast and asked George to go to the corner store for some milk," Mrs. Shultz said.

"He left by the back way and I paid no attention until he failed to return in ten minutes. Then I went to call him. He did not answer. Then I tried the cellar door and found it locked on the inside. I looked in through the transom of the door and saw him hanging from a rope."

"I screamed and called for my husband. He broke down the door and we untied the rope from the beam. At first we thought he was dead, but then we could hear his heart beating faintly."

Miss Una Minto Sails For Mission Fields

Miss Una Minto, sister of Harold Minto of Maple Hill Farm, Antioch, who has been on furlough in America for the past year, returns to her field as a worker under the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions in West Central Africa, and June 22. Miss Minto will sail on the Majestic, connecting at Southampton with the S. S. "Elizabethville." She will stop off at Leopoldville, West Central Africa, to attend a conference, before going to her station in Baidundo, West Central Africa.

Miss Minto will be recalled as a member of the teaching staff of the American Board Girls' School at Baidundo. There are two schools there, one for boys and one for girls, which give to native children who come from the African Kralis, at least a working knowledge of the "3 R's". In addition, they are taught gardening, manual training, and simple rules for domestic life. Many of these children travel seventy-five miles on foot to reach the school, and often eager groups are turned away because of lack of accommodations.

Mamie Mitchell, Mr. and Mrs. Roland Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Clara Bryant, also Henry Kelpie, a guest of Clara Bryant from Fort Sheridan, Ill. Prizes as follows—first, Mrs. Emily Benedict and Leslie Firechow, consolations, Mrs. Eva Firechow and Henry Kelpie.

The following Bristolites went to Harvard Sunday to meet the Moore family for a picnic dinner: Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Gaines, Mrs. Myra Alderson, Mrs. Jennie Whitchee, Mr. and Mrs. George Willett, Miss Edith Murdoch, Miss Carrie Murdoch, Mr. Black, Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Woodbury, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Eight months after the death of John Alexander Dowle, founder of Zion, a stick of dynamite was found near his vault by the caretaker of the cemetery. The fuse and cap were in place and experts claimed that much damage would have been done to the vault and surroundings had it exploded. This was evidently placed by one of his former enemies.

A bolt of lightning that residents declare looked like a gigantic ball of fire split upon the roof last Saturday night, struck the main exposition building at the Lake County Fair grounds at Libertyville, started a fire and before any aid could be rendered, the building, valued at between $2,000 and $3,000 was a mass of charred embers.

A letter was published in the Antioch News June 20, 1915, from John Horan telling of his interesting experiences while at Camp Gordon. He mentions how the shots in the back affected the boys. He said he had good eats and had now been promoted to Sergeant. There were seven conscientious objectors from Zion who were "getting theirs."

The ladies of Grass Lake and vicinity certainly went "over the top" last week in their effort to add the Red Cross. Their money box contained $180.50.

A short time ago Wm. Hancock offered to donate the use of his vacant store building, in north Antioch, to the ladies of the vicinity if they wished to fit it up as a sewing room for Red Cross work. His offer was accepted and Mrs. Wm. Cassidy was given charge of that branch of the Antioch auxiliary. Tables and chairs were loaned by near neighbors and a long cutting table was arranged from what had formerly been a counter in the store. Four sewing machines, which had previously been considered as no good were taken from the main Red Cross room and after a thorough overhauling by Mrs. Cassidy were placed in the new work room in first class running condition.

Hotels Without Beds

Hotels with neither bedrooms nor beds are rampant in Italy. Business men or tourists with only daylight gilesters patronize them extensively. The guests are provided with a bath room and a small sitting room for a low day rate and may find in the hotel a bar, shop, writing rooms, restaurant and bar, as well as a cleaning and pressing service, without having to carry the unnecessary expense of a bedroom.

Duralumin

The chemical properties of duralumin are as follows: Copper 3.5 to 4.5 per cent, manganese, 4 to 1 per cent; magnesium, 2 to .75 per cent; aluminum, 95 per cent, minimum.

Why Seek Great Riches?

"Great riches," said Ill Ho, the sage of Chinatown, "bring great responsibilities. A few men will buy luxury. Millions of men purchase care."—Washington Star.
